Small Angels

*When a child is swept from a Mother's loving care,
And babies too...it just seems so unfair.
When one is taken, we can hardly understand,
How God's timing and thoughts fit into His plan.
Still we must trust Him to know what is best.
And accept when He calls that it is time for our rest.
For He alone knows what ahead of us lies...
And how swiftly the time is passing us by.
We must say goodbye - for only a season,
And try to accept that God has a reason.
For streets of gold would truly seem bare,
If, in Heaven, we found no small angels there...*
